

Good morning beautiful people, as our Governor Codey would say.

Our governor hopes that you guys had a great weekend, and are having a wonderful start to your week. And I'm just here to make it a little better with some new information on our city.

But before I open the floor up to questions, he wants to ask you, the public one simple question.

Think to yourself for a moment. What does unity mean to you? Soon, you will look upon our city when in search for that answer.

After careful consideration, the governor has finally decided on our city's name, and nothing fit more perfectly than the name : United.

Together in our nation we will impact not only our immediate community, but the world around us. United will operate on six core values, that the governor expects all citizens and city officials to honor and maintain for the ultimate success of our city.

These six values are Integrity, unity of course, diversity, leadership, innovation, and last but not least, youthfulness.

SO let's start with integrity. United values integrity because a legendary city cannot be built on lies and dishonesty. Therefore, by making integrity apart of the mission, the governor has made sure that our city will be built in the complete opposite. This includes but is not limited to, giving our citizens the full truth, and not leaving them in the dark about certain stuff, truthful media and no fake news, and making sure that anyone who does not base their own actions with the foundation of truthfulness is corrected immediately.

Everyone in the administration will value integrity, and the governor trusts that the citizens will also. After all, you are the key to our success.

Next value: Unity. To take a quote from the late Bob Marley, to express exactly what the governor hopes to achieve is: “one love, one heart”. Governor Codey is ensuring that our city will stay united and as one when not only faced with tough times, but also faced with good times.

Our cities next main value is diversity. This is a city that will help anyone of any skin color, any gender truly flourish. Our governor has implemented a diversity action plan that will ensure every single background is represented in everything the city does. This includes job opportunities for minorities and the chance for the previously under represented to have a voice in our city.

Moving onto leadership. The governor expects that there will be no followers in Units. Only leaders making other leaders. Although he respects all citizens to follow and obey the government, he also expects that everyone has their own ideas that can benefit our city and make the world a better place for our people and others. This means more leadership positions and less manipulation of power. Bringing me to our second to last value

Innovation. This one is important to the city because the last thing we want to be is like everyone else. Our differences will stand out, and in turn make United one of the greatest cities on earth. The governor want to see us thriving on creativity, new ideas, and creating things the world has never seen. This means he hopes that not only will our city be a tourist attraction, but also be transforming everything around us. From building designs to ideas and values, United will alter everything.

And last but not least: Governor Codey wants our city to focus on youthfulness. No more old white men holding positions in every office. The youth is the future, and should be the ones contributing to decisions on our future. Therefore the Governor will make sure this is highly valued in United. There won't be anymore pushing ideas of the youth to the side, instead they will be taken highly into consideration, and the governor is sure that by doing this United will thrive and remain a young and fun city to be a part of with no boredom.

So now that those are covered, the next thing the Governor would like to be known is our presentation plan. SO basically, our infrastructure will be the best because it will use the best available resources that are sturdy enough to hold transportation and also have lights underneath the lines to make roads more visible to drivers. The governor wants to keep car accidents at a low, and more visibility will be the key, no more pitch black dark back roads. Also, the buildings will be made from available resources and even recyclable resources. Our city is all about reusing so not only will we be being healthy to our planet, but it's going to look different, innovative, and beautiful. With a lot of colors, cleanliness and attractions you will never be bored or disgusted with United. And of course road signs will be another priority to the Governor so everyone can know what they are doing and are supposed to do when driving.

Ok so with that being said, before I open the floor up to questions, I was to unveil the cities symbol. It is a blue and black peace sign with our values around it because United symbolizes peace.

Blue symbolizes loyalty, faith, intelligence, and confidence all things Governor Cody will provide to you.

Black means power and elegance, because that is what this nation is.

Burn it into your brains, get it tatted, put it up in your yard, whatever you do, remember it. The governor hopes that you all will value this symbol because it will help you to value this city.

The United goal is to be be the best city with complete cooperation from its citizens, and we will be exactly that. Can your city say the same.

Thank you for your patience, you may now ask your questions...
